There is a new company that is revolutionizing the way people obtain some legal information. Your Legal Reporter uses the latest video and internet technology to educate the public in a way that was not possible just a few years ago.

Your Legal Reporter developed visual blogs which combine the knowledge of attorneys, in specific practice areas throughout the United States, with an award-winning television news anchor to answer legal questions. By using attorneys' expertise, Your Legal Reporter creates professionally produced TV news packages called Your Legal Reporter Visual Blogs.

Attorneys answer questions from their offices by using compact HD video cameras and special software to create new video content for their websites on a regular basis. This visual blog content keeps the public current and informed on legal topics. Your Legal Reporter provides a unique opportunity for attorneys, in various practice areas, to answer the public's legal questions in a television news media format. Individuals can go to www.yourlegalreporter.com to send in their questions to the television news anchor. These questions may be included in upcoming visual blog content.

In addition, Your Legal Reporter Visual Blogs improve attorneys' rankings in Internet search engines such as Google, Bing, Yahoo, and AOL.

Your Legal Reporter's corporate office is based in Fort Myers, Florida. Attorneys wanting more information on Your Legal Reporter may visit www.ylrclients.com or call (888) 741-1771 Ext. 310.
